

Membership Balance Plan

Advisory Committee for Computer and Information Science and Engineering

1. Name

Advisory Committee for Computer and Information Science and Engineering (the Committee), #1115

2. Authority

This committee is established in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), as amended, 5 U.S.C., App. and the National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. §1861 et. seq.

3. Mission/Function

The Committee will provide advice and recommendations to the National Science Foundation concerning support for research, education and infrastructure; to facilitate policy deliberations, program development and management; and to identify disciplinary needs and areas of opportunities within the Directorate for Computer and Information Science and Engineering (CISE).

The Committee will advise on:

- the impact of its support policies, programs and activities in the disciplines and fields encompassed by CISE;
- over program management, overall program balance and other aspects of program performance;
- the impact of overall NSF-wide policies on the CISE community;
- issues pertaining to individual programs as well as multi-disciplinary activities; and
- topics of interest across all programs.

4. Points of View

The Committee consists of members who are appointed by the Assistant Director, CISE, or his/her designee. The Committee will consist of approximately 20 members. There will be a regular rotation of members. Primary considerations are:

- Members should have recognized pertinent knowledge, expertise or demonstrated ability.
- Within reasonable limits, members' field of specialty should be complementary within the group.

Federal employee members will be designated as Regular Government Employees (RGEs). Individuals outside the Federal Government will be designated as Special Government Employees (SGEs). The members will provide the Committee with their own best independent judgment based on their individual expertise.

5. Other Balance Factors

To the extent practicable, other factors considered are:

- Qualified individuals reflecting small, medium, and large organizations, as well as public and private organizations
- Qualified individuals reflecting underrepresented groups, such as ethnic minorities, women, and individuals with disabilities
- Qualified individuals reflecting a range of ages
- Qualified individuals reflecting different geographical areas

6. Candidate Identification Process

On behalf of the Assistant Director, CISE staff will solicit suggestions for potential members from a wide range of sources, including but not limited to: senior NSF management, knowledgeable NSF program staff, other Federal agencies, and recommendations from the public.

Suggestions will be reviewed and potential candidates will be identified taking into consideration professional and personal qualifications, experience, fields of expertise, and other balance factors. A short list of the best qualified candidates will be developed and discussed. The Assistant Director, CISE will identify the top candidates and they will be contacted for interest and availability

When a vacancy occurs and it is determined that a replacement is necessary, the list of suggestions will be used as a source for potential replacements.

7. Subcommittee Balance

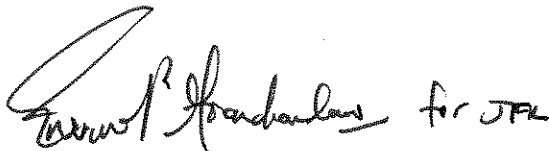

The process used to determine advisory committee member balance for the Committee will be used for subcommittees that may be created.

8. Other

There are currently no other known factors affecting the balance of the Committee.

9. Date Prepared/Updated

This Membership Balance Plan was prepared on 4-20-2016

James Kurose
Assistant Director
Directorate for Computer and Information
Science and Engineering